UNIVERSITY DIPLOMA IN INTERNATIONAL & COMPARATIVE STUDIES

This program is open to international students that have completed at least one year of studies in higher education and offers a one-year degree, the University Diploma in International and Comparative Studies, which corresponds to 60 ECTS.

It has been designed for students who are enrolling as free-movers. It offers a high-level of qualification dedicated to international relations & comparative political studies and deals with numerous global themes. Students may choose the language of instruction by specifying at time of registration which linguistic branch they prefer: the English Track or the French Track.

International students have access to a wide choice of courses that cover all fields of the Sciences Po Toulouse degree: political science, law, international relations, sociology, history, economics.

Compulsory French and methodology courses provide you with the necessary skills during your study stay. These French language and method conferences in small groups favor exchanges and interactions.

KEY INFORMATION

Prerequisites for enrolment

- Bac +1

Incoming mobility coordinator
Anna READ | Office MD218
+33 (0)5 61 11 02 66
incoming@sciencespo-toulouse.fr

Head of the International Relations office
Lucile SEGUIN | Office MD216
+33 (0)5 61 11 17 97
international@sciencespo-toulouse.fr

TUITION

English track: 1934€

This fee applies only to students applying independently to the DU. Students on an exchange programme (bilateral agreement) or Erasmus+ are not subject to this fee.*